JULY 2010

GLEANER
GENERATIONS OF INNOVATION

Gleaner would like to provide a sneak peek of the Super Seven, nicknamed "The Stealth". The Stealth got a special paint job just before it goes head-to-head against the competition in the field. (The production Super Seven will not be painted black). But the black paint should be the least of the competition's worries. The S7 is a super-capacity combine representing a new generation of Gleaner transverse harvesting technology. It will gladly take on combines that need far more fuel, weight and forgiveness for grain loss.

The S7 will be in the wheat harvest running side-by-side with competitive machines as well as the current Gleaner combines.

The Stealth S7 displays the original Gleaner logo on its cab as a nod to the founders who did exactly what we seek to do with this machine; change the rules of harvesting. The Stealth S7 incorporates a new processor system with added capacity that builds on the proven Natural Flow system. Details will be released in the near future concerning the combine's specifications, performance and, most importantly, how you can get yours reserved. In the meantime, please stay tuned to gleanersuperseven.com for updates from the field

This is the Gleaner you've been waiting for.
This changes everything
